and FRUIT FARM

CRESCENT CITY, - IOWA,

H. A. TERRY, Proprietor.

FRESH FRUITS IN THEIR SEASON.

COUNCIL BLUFFS
GLOBE PUBLISHING COMPANY,
1890.
To my Customers:

Thankful for past favors, I respectfully ask for a continuance of the same, and now offer this 15th edition of my catalogue for your perusal, and if anything contained in it justifies you to favor me with your order, I will to the best of my ability fill it to your satisfaction.

I warrant all my stock to be true to name, and in good order when delivered. The stock offered in this catalogue is all grown on my own grounds, and of course is much better adapted to this climate and soil than that brought from eastern nurseries, and in time will be found much the cheapest.

My Apple, Cherry and Plum trees are all once transplanted, or root pruned, which gives them abundance of fibrous roots, and renders them much more valuable for setting in the orchard, though they are perhaps a trifle smaller than those not transplanted.

I would call particular attention to my stock of Russian Plums and Cherries, from one to four years old, and feel safe in saying that for quality of trees they cannot be excelled in the west.

My stock of two and three year old Concord and other Grapes is remarkably fine and healthy, and will be sold by the 100 or 1,000 at unusually low rates.

I would say that an experience of over 30 years in the nursery business on the Missouri Slope, and the loss of thousands of dollars in experimenting with untried varieties, has placed me in a position to furnish my customers with Ironclads: that is, varieties that will endure the excessive cold and changes of our northwestern winters.

I strongly advise taking up stock in the fall for spring planting, which should be “heeled in,” or buried root and branch: and, when wanted in the spring, will be found in much better condition for planting than if left in the nursery during the winter. Currants, Gooseberries, Rhubarb, etc., are much better planted in autumn, as they will bear a good crop the next season, which they will not do if planted in the spring.

As every order is executed under the supervision of the proprietor, no tree or plant is allowed to go out of the nursery unless it is well rooted and in healthy condition.

All persons wanting trees are earnestly invited to visit the nursery and select for themselves.

Terms—Cash; or, if by Express. C. O. D.

No charge for packing and delivery to express office or railroad. Boxes are charged at cost.

Parties ordering will please name route by which they wish their goods shipped, otherwise we forward to the best of our judgment. After shipment our responsibility ceases. All errors on our part cheerfully corrected.

Remittances may be made by Draft, Postal Order, or in currency in Registered Letter. Private checks from a distance not desirable.
FRUIT DEPARTMENT.

APPLES.—My list of Apples is what is usually termed the "Iron-clad List," being composed of such varieties as best withstand the excessive cold and sudden changes of our climate. The most popular varieties are as follows:

WINTER.—Ben Davis, Walbridge, Wine Sap, Jonathan, Grimes Golden, Rawle's Janet, Northern Spy, Perry Russet, Tallman's Sweet and Roman Stem.

RUSSIAN APPLES.—Moscow, Longfield, Yellow Transparent, Borsdorf, Thaler, German Calville, Wolf River, Hibernia, Beel, Good Peasant, Blackwood, St. Peter, Grand Sultan, White Russet, Borovinka, Moscow Pear, Hare Pippin, Repka Malenka, Blush Calville, Antonovka, Gravensteiner, Revel Borsdor, Roman, Battulen and Titovka.

PRICES

| Apples 3 years, 1st class, 15c each | $12.50 | 100
| Russian Apples 3 years, 1st class, 25c each | 20.00 | 100
| Crab Apples 3 years, 1st class, 20c each | 18.00 | 100

CHERRIES.—The Sweet Cherries of the Eastern States will not grow here, but the following old kinds do fairly well: Early and Late Richmond and English Morello.

Price—2 years, 30 cents; 3 years, 40 cents.

RUSSIAN CHERRIES.—These are now taking the lead in Cherries, and the following varieties have proved to be perfectly hardy and great bearers: Vladimir, Glasskirscht, Lutovka, Spate Amorelle, Rus. No. 12, Amorelle Hative, Brusseler Braune, Amorelle Bouquet, Fauhe Morello, Griotte Imperial, Double Natte, No. 18 Riga, Griotte Kleparite, Large Montmorency, Weir's No. 13, Wragg and Ostheim.

Price—2 years, 65 cents; 3 years, 75 cents.

PLUMS.—I have made the Plum a specialty for several years, and find it to be a paying crop for fruit, and have also succeeded in growing a good stock of trees. Many of the older kinds are valuable here, such as Wild Goose, Forest Garden, De Soto, VanBuren, Miner and Weaver.

Price—2 years, 35 cents; 3 years, 40 cents.

Among the newer varieties of Plums are some of great value, as follows:

Rollingstone, 2 years, 40 cents; 3 years, 50 cents
Wolf, 35 " 40 "

GRAPES.—The hardy varieties of this fine fruit do well here, but many of the highly extolled new varieties of the Eastern States prove entirely worthless with us. The following have been tested here and seem worthy of general planting:
Concord. 1 year, 5 cents; 2 years, 10 cents.
Delaware. 15 " 20 "
Elvira (white). 15 " 20 "
The following varieties were by mistake left out of their proper place in catalogue:

RUSSIAN APRICOTS.

Nicholas, Budd, Catharine, Alexis, Gibb, Alexander, Skoboleff and Shense.

Price—one year, 35 cents; two years, 50 cents.

Yosemite Plum.

Purple and Yellow.

Price—one year, 35 cents; two years, 40 cents.

RASPBERRIES.—This delicious fruit is easily grown if the plants are kept properly thinned out and cut back in summer and autumn. I usually sell two year old plants, but, if my customers prefer it, I can furnish them "tips." The older plants are much safer and more liable to grow than the tips. The following varieties are hardy and productive:

BLACKBERRIES.—The Kittatinny, Snyder and Western Triumph seem to be the only varieties that are sufficiently hardy to be worth planting:

Price, 75 cents $ Doz.

DEWBERRIES.—

Bartle's Mammoth, 75 cents $ Doz.

Lucretia and Windom, $1.00 $ Doz.
STRAWBERRIES.—To fruit well the plants should be grown in hills or rows, and the runners kept clipped off; else they will make too many plants and but little fruit. The best and hardiest varieties are:

- New Large Hybrid, $2.50 per doz.
- Egyptian Queen (new), $3.50 per doz.

MISCELLANEOUS FRUITS.

Dwarf Juneberry.—This fruit takes the place of Huckleberries in this country, having much the same flavor, and is excellent for pies and for table use in the raw state. It is better mixed with some acid fruit like currants or gooseberries. The trees grow from five to seven feet high and are perfectly hardy and wonderfully productive. Price, 25 cents each.

The Dwarf Giant is an improved variety of the above, growing only three to four feet high. Price, 50 cents each.

Buffalo Berry.—This is a nice fruit for tarts or jellies, ripening late in autumn, and if allowed will remain on the trees during most of the winter. Trees grow ten to fifteen feet high and bear immense crops. They often commence bearing at height of three or four feet. Price, 25 cents each.

Large Fruited Barberry.—This is both a useful and ornamental shrub, the fruit making a nice jelly or jam. Price, 25 cents each.

ORNAMENTAL DEPARTMENT.

ROSES.—I have a fine collection of the best varieties of hardy Roses, consisting of June, Moss, Climbing and Hybrid Perpetual Roses, of which among the June varieties are Auretti, Sultana, Madam China, Madam Plantier, Caroline Mignonna, Centifolia, Victor Tracy, Paul Ricaut and Cerricette. Of Moss Roses, Countess Murinais, St. James, Capt. Ingram, Picotee, Marie de Blois, Salet Perpetual, Alice Leroy and Alfred de Delmas. Of Climbers, Multi-flora. Mrs. Pierce, Prairie Queen, Baltimore Belle and Pride of Washington. Of Hybrid Perpetuals, La Reine, Gen. Jacqueminot, Giant of Battles, Eugene Sue, Alfred Colomb, Baron Prevost, Prince Camille de Rohan and others. Of Yellow Roses, Mrs. Tweed and Harrison's Yellow.

June Roses, strong plants, 25 to 50 cents each.
Moss Roses, strong plants, 50 to 75 cents each.
Climbing Roses, strong plants, 25 to 50 cents each.
Yellow Roses. strong plants, 25 to 50 cents each.
Hybrid Perpetuals, strong plants, 50 to 75 cents each.

ROSA RUGOSA.—This is a new Russian Rose of great beauty, being perfectly hardy and producing flowers of large size and purplish scarlet color. It is very fragrant and a desirable variety and should be in every collection. Price, strong plants, 50 cents each.

LILACS.—Ten varieties. Strong plants 25 to 50 cents each.

SYRINGAS.—Several varieties. Pure white flowers, sweet scented, 25 to 50 cents each.

SPIRAES.—This is a family of flowering shrubs that is not so well known as it should be, being hardy and free bloomers. The varieties are quite numerous, but the best are as follows: Opulifolia, Reevesii, Callosa, Callosa Alba, Louis Van Houtte, Sorbifolia, Prunifolia Double, Thunbergii, Blumeanii, Billardii, Thalictroides and Salicifolia. Price, 25 to 50 cents each.

WEIGELIA.—Beautiful dwarf shrubs with bell-shaped flowers. Rosea, rose colored, and Lutea, yellow, 25 to 50 cents each.

PEONIAS.—This is the queen of the flower garden. I have in my collection over one hundred named varieties of this magnificent flower, embracing all the best and finest sorts in cultivation. They may be planted either in spring or fall, being perfectly hardy. Prices range from 25 cents to $1.00 each, but parties ordering collections may get one plant of a variety at $2 to $4 per dozen.

PHLOXES.—A very hardy and showy class of herbaceous perennials of easy cultivation and containing a great variety of shades and colors. Price, 10 to 15 cents each.
